TORONTO TIDINGS

Mr. Christopher Evans, who has been working on the King's Highway in the employ of the Provincial Works Department in and around Port Hope during the past open season, has now returned to the city, and is trying for a winter job.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Jones and Mrs. John C. Zimmerman motored in from Palgrave and spent Sunday, October 7th very pleasantly with us. Mr. Zimmerman, who had been working on a bridge near Markham for a week, was also in to see us. As a carpenter, he is very busy on the highways.

Mr. Harold Haldane came up from Ottawa, on October 6th, for a few days' visit and to meet his sister, Miss Minnie Haldane, from Detroit. Later the two left together for their home in the Dominion Capital.

Frank Bailey returned to resume his studies for another term at Belleville, on October 9th. Getting a new set of teeth is the reason for not going with the regular contingent.

A social gathering of the younger set was held at the home of Miss Margaret Partridge, near Weston, on October 6th, to celebrate her betrothal to Mr. Lorenzo Martell, also of that place.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Scott returned home on October 1st, from their holiday trip, visiting relatives and friends in Wellandport, Dunnville, St. Catharines, Niagara Falls and Towawanda, N. Y. Their sunny countenance bespoke a jolly time and a good rest.

Mr. Archie McVean, of Malton, motored down and Sundayed with old acquaintances here on October 7th.

Mr. Oscar McPeake is now working at the Hancock Lumber Co. in the West End and doing very well.

Mr. and Mrs. James Tate arrived from their wedding trip on October 5th, and next day left for Hamilton, to spend that week-end with the latter's parents. They are now settled in their new home on Edna Avenue, and Mr. Tate is back on his old job at the Dominion Carbon Co., of which his father is proprietor.

Mrs. Andrew S. Waggoner, who spoke at our church on September 9th last, used the subject, "The Bible and Jesus' Glory Through Women," and handled her address in a masterly manner.

We were favored with an interesting quartet of visitors from over the line the forepart of the week of October 8th. Having learned, through the JOURNAL, of the beauty of our new church, Mr. and Mrs. L. Huffstaten, the latter's deaf sister, Miss Leila Wilson and their deaf employee, Mr. Edward J. Cote, all of Clayton, N. Y., motored down from the Falls, on October 8th, and remained in our midst for a couple of days taking in the beauties of this city and were much taken up with our church. All four are very intelligent and sociability in their manners. Mr. and Mrs. Huffstaten are probably the only deaf couple who own and run a chain of souvenir stores, which are located in Clayton. They spoke highly of their visit here as they left for Belleville, Kingston, Ottawa and Montreal, en route for home.

Miss Margaret Rea, who came to this city recently, in guest of work, has obtained employment as a house maid and likes her duties.

The Bible Training School at 110 College Street, which had, for many years, been our place of worship prior to the opening of our new church, is now being demolished and a great Modern Pathological Building will be erected on the site for the Toronto General Hospital, which is just across the street. The late Mr. J. D. Nasmith left a portion of his will towards its maintenance, on the stipulation that the deaf should use it every Sabbath afternoon for divine worship—a gift that created the late lamented, Mr. Nasmith and idol in the hearts of the deaf.

The Kicuwa Club held a re-organization meeting at our church on October 8th, and through the good office of Mr. George Bridgen, Chairman of the Board of Education, this club may be able to take up courses in domestic and household science at the College of Culinary and domestic art on Bathurst Street, every Thursday evening during the coming season.

One of the finest sermons given at our church in a long time was preached by Mr. J. R. Byrne on October 7th, when he very implicitly gave the reason why God persuadeth us to be a Christian. There was a good turnout and Mrs. W. R. Watt favored us with the hymn, "Lord God, Thou Holy."

Mr. Norman Yeager, of Windsor, was down for the week-end of October 6th, visiting relatives and friends here and at Long Branch. He took in our weiner roast at the Humber.

Our Church Board met on October 9th, for the transaction of its regular monthly business, but there was not much chaff to sift through. It was decided to hold our annual harvest thanksgiving service on Sunday, October 21st. Our winter's supply of coal, which is not in yet, received special attention, in view of the increased price.

"They Will be done on Earth as it is in Heaven," was the subject which Mr. J. R. Byrne fully explained in its true form and meaning at our Epworth League gathering, on October 10th.

Mrs. John McGillivray, of Purpleville, has returned home after a week with her daughter at "Mora Glen," and another week with her son, N. A. McGillivray, and other relatives here.

Mr. T. F. Robertson motored down too Belleville, on October 13th, to see his son, who has entered our Alma Mater for the first time. He was accompanied by Mrs. A. Shepherd and her sister-in-law, Miss Nellie Shepherd, who went to pay a visit to the former's son, Anival Shepherd, Jr. The party returned home the following Monday. Mr. Robertson, a returned soldier, is manager of Park Lawn Cemetery, west of the Humber River.

Mrs. George Bridgeford, of Dundas, whose husband passed away on September 26th, and who then went to her old home in Orangeville for a while, has now secured work in this city and we welcome her.

Mr. Samuel Pugsley suddenly disappeared as if the earth had swallowed him up, and no one could surmise as to his whereabouts until the reporter, after diligent enquiring, learned he left early in September for a visit to relatives in Manitoba, but is expected back around the end of October.

The Women's Association of our church met for regular business on October 11th, and among the items thrashed out was that this body should meet once a month in the evening, instead of in the afternoon, and minor details.

Messrs. Russell D. Diehl, Roy Ludovico and John Wagel, motored all the way over from Pittsburgh and shared in our company on October 12th and 13th, and we were glad to meet them. They took in our first Bridgen Literary Society meeting.

Mr. Monty Egginton is doing such a thriving business in his tonsorial parlors on Yonge Street, that when your scribe dropped in the other day he was amazed at the interior changes. A new ladies' beauty parlor has been opened and a competent instructor placed in charge.

Mr. Harry E. Grooms, of our post-office staff, commenced his annual three weeks leave on October 15th, and spent most of the time in Oshawa, Hampton, Bowmanville, Belleville and Napanee. Mrs. Grooms and children also spent some time at Oshawa and Hampton. Mr. Grooms combined his vacation with a rest and making arrangements for our next convention in Belleville in 1930, of which he is president.

Instead of holding its annual picnic, as it has in the past, the Bridgen Literary Society held a wiener roast which was a great success from a pleasure point of view. The social committee, including Mesdames, W. R. Watt, F. E. Harris, Henry Whealy and Miss Carrie Brethour, and Messrs. W. R. Watt and Charles Elliott worked hard to make it a success and they provided abundantly in the old-fashioned way of the prehistoric Red man. After the evening meal was over, Chairman H. W. Roberts announced that a re-organization meeting of this society would be held on Friday night, October 12th, at our church rooms. Then the jolly crowd indulged in a few more pranks before leaving for their various homes in happy spirits. In order to boast the society's activities during the coming season, a small fee was asked of each participant in this pastime and a nice little sum was realized. The re-organization meeting of this society was held on October 12th, as scheduled, and the following rules were drafted.

It is to meet each alternate Friday evening, though when a "special" event is billed it will be on a Saturday. From October 1st to November 16th, is the time in which to join, any joining after that have that their entry dated from the above period.

Mr. Samuel Goodall, who has been a trusted employee of the Toronto Transportation Commission for over thirteen years, was about to take a vacation recently, but had hardly gone when he was called back, as his service was badly needed. This speaks volumes of praise of our friend's industry and devotion to duty.

HORNING MILLS HUMOR

The aged yet affable mother of T. A. Middleton, has returned home from a fortnight's visit to friends in Creemore, Owen Sound, Collingwood, Orangeville and other parts, much elated over the good time she had.

While on their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. James Tate, of Toronto, stopped over with Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Averall in Cookstown, on September 28th, and next day the newlyweds had dinner with the Bownes ere they left for Orillia and Sutton West.

Mr. John Taylor, of Singhampton, returned home on October 4th, after a few days helping Thomas A. Middleton gather in the remnants of his harvest. Despite frequent showers and at times steady downpours, the crops have been safely housed.

Mr. Moses Summers returned from a pleasaunt visit to his mother and other relatives in Muncey, Iona, London and other places, on October 6th.

Mrs. Thomas A. Middleton was well remembered the other day by her daughter, Miss Helen A. Middleton, of Niagara Falls, when the latter sent her several baskets of the choicest peaches of the Niagara belt—the peach land of Ontario. Those who visit the hospitable home of the Middletons this coming winter, will surely enjoy a taste of this delicious fruit, plus a coat of cream.

SARNIA SAYINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Jontie Henderson, with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leckie motored out and spent October 7th, very pleasantly with Mr. and Mrs. John Mackie in Dresden. Contrary to expectation, Mr. and Mrs. James Beckett, of Detroit, did not show up, much to the regret of the Mackies.

Mrs. Leitch, the beloved mother, of Mrs. Jontie Henderson, who has been ill in bed for a couple of weeks, is able to be around again, we are pleased to note. On this account she was unable to go and attend the funeral of her sister, Eliza, who passed from this shadow to the portals of eternity on September 29th, in her eighty-third year, otherwise she and Mr. and Mrs. Henderson would have motored to attend her funeral in Stratford. The deceased was the favorite aunt of the Hendersons and had traveled extensively. To the bereaved ones we extend deepest sympathy.

LONDON LEAVES

Remember that Mrs. A. S. Waggoner, of Hamilton, will be here for our meeting on November 25th, and we look for a good turnout.

Miss Sophie Fishbein, accompanied by her brother-in-law, Mr. H. Yarm, of Stratford, motored down to Toronto, on October 2d, on business returning the same evening. While in the "Queen City" Sophie came across none of her friends except Mr. Thomas Goulding, whom she chanced to meet.

Mrs. William McGovern, came up again on September 24th, from Toronto, where she had been for a week. Owing to her impaired health she may remain here for a month.

As far as we can learn, most if not all the deaf of this city are steadily employed, and probably some will go to Toronto to attend the Berry meeting on November 10th.

GENERAL GLEANINGS

With this letter go subscriptions for Andrew S. Waggoner, of Hamilton, Russell Groves, of Ingersoll, Miss Edna Egginton and Sidney R. Walker, of Toronto. The "flow in" is unabating.

Miss Helen A. Middleton, of Niagara Falls, journeyed out to St. Catharines and spent the week-end of October 6th, very enjoyably with Miss Ethel Hoare.

Messrs. Herman St. Amant, of Penetang, and William Brandon, of Midland, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Lennox, in Phelpston, on three different dates.

At Elville, Sask., on October 6th, Michael Hisack was convicted of the murder of his employer, George Edy, a farmer of Duff, Sask., and sentenced to hang on January 9, 1929, by Mr. Justice McLean. The doomed man, who is thirty-six years old, is unknown among the deaf here, and as far as known, is probably the first deaf person to pay the supreme penalty in Canada.

It should be remembered that during the late convention in Toronto last July, Mr. Leon Laporte as the Indian War Chief, and Mrs. Alexander Lobsinger the Princess, made a great hit as they reeled off piece after piece in the traditional legendary way of the Red Men.

The officers of our late convention held last July, who received various gifts in appreciation of their untiring efforts in making the convention a success, wish to thank those who contributed towards the gifts, especially the deaf in Brantford, London, Kitchener, Hamilton and other parts. Such gifts received will be strong reminders of their friends' generosity.

While in St. Catharines visiting her friends, Miss Helen A. Middleton, of Niagara Falls, was out for a stroll with Miss Ethel Hoare, and on their return to the latter's home, they were surprised yet pleased to meet their young schoolmate, Mr. Bert Watson, of that city, who is a nice young fellow. An enjoyable chat was the outcome of this meeting.

The writer once again desires to thank the numerous readers of the JOURNAL for their flattering words of appreciation for the good and interesting items that appear every week in this newsy paper. The compliments come from readers throughout Canada and the United States. There are a good many former Belleville school graduates across the line, who love to get tidings concerning the doings of their old pals everywhere. The reporter also wishes to thank his side contributors for the little items they send to him from time to time. Even one solitary item counts much. The average number of letters containing news that come to "Mora Glen" is half a dozen daily.

DISTRICT BLIND BABIES

The State Legislature of New York has granted a budget sufficient to care for thirty-five blind babies and young children, in the Institution maintained by the International Sunshine Society, with headquarters at 96 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

Mr. Edwin Gould has just finished building two large playrooms, 20 by 20, as additions to the Edwin Gould Kindergarten Annex, making exceptional schoolroom facilities for these little folks.

The State Board of Education has sent to the Sunshine Arthur Home and Kindergarten, since its opening, ninety-five children. They are taken in generally as wee babies, and they can graduate at eight years for the State or City School for the Blind, if they are physically strong and mentally bright.

As children leave or graduate, their crib is immediately given to some child on the waiting list. If this item reaches the eye of any mother who has a blind baby or a young blind child too young for the State Schools, she should communicate immediately with Mrs. John Alden, Sunshine Headquarters, 96 Fifth Avenue, New York City, and she as Honorary Chairman of the Blind of the New York State Federation, and Chairman of the Blind of the City Federation of Women's Clubs, will help in every way possible to get the little one properly appointed by the State Board of Education.

Anybody knowing of a wee blind baby should feel it her duty to tell the mother that now New York State and City gives special care to these little ones.

Wilksburg, Pa.

Wilksburg has been in obscurity as far as the JOURNAL is concerned for some time now, and "for why"—G. M. T. wasn't around to note the doings of the deaf in the neighborhood. He might start the ball rolling by giving an account of himself. From the last week in July until October 4th, G. M. and Mrs. Teegarden were rusticated on Lake Waccabuc in New York State, and so closely did they stick, the happenings among the deaf of Wilksburg could not filter through. They, however, had an enjoyable vacation with their daughter and other friends in New York. The only regret they could register was they could not be home and enjoy the joint meeting of the P. S. A. D. and the W. P. I. D., which meet, from enthusiastic statements of friends was the greatest ever in this end of the State. Between four and five hundred were registered at the meeting and taxed the school's capacity to its utmost, and the best of it is we have heard nothing but good concerning the meet. Good work was done and everybody had a good time apparently. The only thing we don't like about it, we were not there to be a part of it all. So there.

It seems some of our near neighbors had quite a "run-about" time during the past summer. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leitner drove to Baltimore and visited scores of old friends, not forgetting those in Washington. Then coming home they took a roundabout way through Harrisburg and over the William Penn highway to Tyrone, to visit a nephew, then on through Altoona. They got a glimpse of Loretto, the wonder estate of Charles M. Schwab, further on stopping at Blairsville for refreshments, they were surprised to find a friend of Miss Alice Teegarden, in fact, her classmate while at Blairsville College, and were pleasantly entertained. The Leitners also visited with Mrs. Leitner's sister in Cleveland. All this shows they make good use of their auto-car.

Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Finley also visited friends in Atlantic City and other places in New Jersey over Labor Day, and enjoyed traveling on those speedy auto-buses. Mr. Finley's sister, Mrs. Worth, who was supervisor of girls at the Rome, N. Y., school, is at home at present, having given up her work there. She was well liked at the school, but on account of poor health she could not stand the confinement.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sawhill were also rovers during the summer. Being Ohioans, they attended the State Frat convention in Columbus, and then extended their journey to Cleveland and Grand Rapids, to visit a sister. They touched at Toledo, Akron and Canton also.

We learn that George Blackhall, our roofing contractor, is this week finishing up the large contract he had near Ligonier for the Mellon interests. This job had kept the roofers busy all summer and the work was all done by deaf workmen. Mr. Friend, rather than loaf around all summer, accepted a call from Mr. Blackhall and worked for some time on the job, along with Mr. Graves, Mr. Davis, Walter Laughlin and others.

During the summer work at the Swissvale switch and signal works was rather slack and the men had time aplenty to get away for a change. Mr. Grimm took advantage of the idle hours and visited his old home in Snider County and got some change and rest.

The first of last week Mr. Henry Bardes was called to Cincinnati, his old home town, to attend the obsequies of his brother-in-law, who had passed on at his home in Iowa, the remains being brought to Cincinnati for interment. He was away from his post of duty but two days, too short a time to visit all his relatives and friends in "Cincy," where he grew up.

Mrs. Charles McArthur has, at last, returned to Wilksburg to live, and as a consequence hubby is extremely happy, since he does not have to make weekly trips to Johnstown any more to see "wife and kiddie," as he had been doing all summer. Mac is now employed as a skilled bricklayer and is working on a skyscraper in Pittsburgh—one of those bigger and better buildings that are going up along Grant Street.

John Stanton, assistant to the master of the cabinet shop, took a week-end trip to Mahaffey, Armstrong County, recently. Apparently he wanted to try out his old Ford car to see if it was worth anything yet. He is impatient waiting for his new Ford runabout. There is pleasure in store for him, for we know the new Ford is all right.

Tickets at twenty-five cents for a meeting of the P. S. A. D. Branch at St. Peter's the 13th, bore the legend "A surprise for you." The mystery brought together a fair-sized gathering to find out what it was all about, of course. The "surprise" consisted of Mr. Teitelbaum rigged out in a way-farer's garb and outfitting complete. After salutation and a showing of his various packs and kits, he gave an outline of his experiences while tramping from his old home in the Catskills to Rochester, Niagara Falls and Buffalo. Later he worked his way through the Adirondacks and on to Boston. Returning through Connecticut and New Jersey, he finally reached Philadelphia, where he took train for Pittsburgh. Now that looks like a long, long tramp, but from details he gave out it would seem the greater part of it was eased by generous autoists along the roads.

NEWS AND COMMENTS

The deaf of not only North Carolina, but of all other Southern States should contribute to this fund, and to the assisting of any other of our deaf who may have suffered in the Florida hurricane. 'Tis a worthy case and deserving of instant response by the deaf throughout the South. No telling when others of us may be stricken by a like dire calamity. Our personal "mite" goes to this fund by next mail.

Information is reaching us by almost every mail telling us that the deaf everywhere are planning to attend the D. A. D. convention next summer in Atlanta. Friends everywhere seem very enthusiastic and assure us that they will surely be here—Providence and the state of their finances permitting. Good! Atlanta will be ready to care for all.

Mr. J. M. Robertson, president of the Dixie Association of the Deaf, has appointed the following Board Members: J. H. McFarlane, Alabama, O. G. Carrell, North Carolina and Mrs. J. G. Bishop, Georgia, three of the best known and most representative deaf of the South, who will be very valuable on the Executive Committee. Mr. Robertson has surrounded himself with a good, strong "cabinet," every member of whom is in perfect harmony with him and with the cause he represents. His official "family" is expected to begin functioning nicely within a short time. Watch for announcements.

If our friends desire to keep up with these articles in the JOURNAL they will send in their two dollars at once, either to this writer or to the editor in New York. Don't be a "borrower" of your neighbor's paper. Subscribe yourself and help uphold the cause of the deaf.

Show that you appreciate a good deaf newspaper when you see one, also that you appreciate the labor of this scribe in keeping Atlanta, Georgia and the South, constantly in the front ranks. Remember you get 52 full weeks of the deaf world for only $2.00. Be sports and don't depend upon others to furnish you with reading matter.

Miss Jewel Yates and family, who have been living for the past year at Jacksonville, Florida, have moved back to Atlanta. Miss Yates says she is delighted to get back, that while she liked Jacksonville very much, there is no place "just like Atlanta."

Mrs. John E. Stockard is expecting to enter the Wesleyan Memorial hospital within the next few days, to undergo quite a serious operation for some stomach trouble.

Nothing of much importance is going on here at present. Most of the boys employed in the printing offices are working overtime with fall business, and in their "off time" they are all busy laying plans for the next Basketball Tournament.

AN APPEAL

The time is rapidly drawing near when a contract must be awarded for the erection of the Statue of De l'Epée by the positive order of the Executive Board of the National Association of the Deaf, that the Statue must be completed by the time the semi-annual convention meets at Buffalo, N. Y., in August 1930. The unveiling of this important memorial to De l'Epée, whose life and deeds are too well known to the deaf to need repetition, will be probably the most attractive feature of the meeting.

The Statue Fund is still far from sufficient to meet the expenses of the erection not only of the memorial, but of a handsome base besides.

You are urged to send me a contribution, no matter how little, as every little helps and this without being asked or approached, as to ask each and every one of you by letter or otherwise would be a physical impossibility.

Buffalo is an ideal place for the statue, on account of its growing in population and also as thousands of visitors stop there to view the world-famous Niagara Falls nearby. This city deserves the placement of the memorial, for the deaf living there made the largest contribution to the Fund of all the cities in the United States, with the exception of New York City.

Please send your mite as soon as possible. Thank you!

SAMUEL FRANKENHELM, Chairman-Treasurer.

"He's true to God who's true to man;
Whenever wrong is done
To the humblest and the weakest
Neath the all-ubeholding sun,
That wrong is also done to us,
And they are slaves most base,
Whose love of right is for themselves,
And not for all the race."

Two former pupils of the school at Knoxville, Tenn., met with death by violence during the past two months. We learn from the Silent Observer that Samuel Lee Brown, a graduate of six years ago, was killed by the overturning of an automobile, August 18th; and that Ernest Cochrane, who lost his hearing by sickness at thirteen years, and consequently was more than ordinarily clever, was killed instantly by the locomotive of a railroad train.

In this latter fatality it is again proven that only the brightest are subject to fatal accident on the railroad track. Cochrane stepped from a train and tried to cross the track over which trains traveled in the opposite direction. He was a linotype and knew the time trains were due, so his confidence was fortified by this knowledge. He was smart and keen and presumably careful. Yet the train mangled him, because it was over two hours behind schedule and trying to make up time. The young man was right, but the train happened to be wrong; nevertheless the result was fatal to him.

It is strange but true that only the brightest are a sacrifice to the rushing locomotive. The deaf of mediocre calibre take fewer risks, probably because the sense of sureness has been moderated by wise advice of teachers. Whereas, the smart deaf pupil, while assenting to the carefulness which the preceptor enjoined, decided that it was quite unnecessary in his case—his cleverness would save him from any disaster.

To be taken from this life suddenly is a disaster that is mourned alike by the family and friends of the victim. It brings grief to everybody and satisfaction to none. And when one realizes that care would have prevented the fatality, it should be a lesson to those who are plunged in grief. Even the ordinary bystander is horrified. The number of fatal accidents could be lessened if all would practice carefulness and take no chances where the railroad track is concerned.

THERE has always existed the popular notion that athletics and physical exercise does not help in the development of the mind.—It does help the mind—even the habit of finger spelling develops the brain.

A Deaf-Mute Globe-Trotter.

Jean Tenant, a globe-trotter from Saint-Etienne (France), is passing through Liege. He is in the act of accomplishing a tour of the world. He must cover a distance of 52,600 kilometers. Since starting, this original deaf-mute globe-trotter has already visited Spain, Portugal, Northern Africa, Tripoli, Sicily, Italy, Asia, Austria, and Germany. To my mind, he would do better to remain at home and work.—Notre Journal, Brussels, Belgium.

THE SOUTHWEST

On October 13th and 14th, 1928, there were gathered together in Dallas something like 500 deaf people from Oklahoma, Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi, for the purpose of witnessing the football game between Texas and Oklahoma, and to attend Dallas Division No. 63 N. F. S. D.'s tenth annual fraternal, and also to take in the Texas State Fair, the world's largest exposition of its kind.

For the first time in the history of the Southwest, two teams representing deaf players met in a football game, on October 13, 1928, when the Texas and Oklahoma deaf teams played in Dallas, with the Texas team coming out the winner by the score of 13 to 0. Those 13 points made by the Texas team, however, are not a basis on which to judge the difference in the power of the two teams. Though Texas is my Alma Mater and I wanted to her to win the game, in all fairness to the Oklahoma boys and their coach, I must say that had the Oklahoma boys gotten to Dallas as soon as did the Texans, and had they been in as good physical condition, the game would have been a 0 to 0 tie. For both the Texas touchdowns were the result of fumbles by the Oklahoma boys.

The Oklahoma delegation can well be proud of their school, their players on the team, and their coach, for they one and all made a fine impression upon everyone who attended the game. The Texas players were all fine gentlemen, and played a wonderful game, and deserved to win. But we cannot say as much for their coach, for throughout his stay in Dallas, he showed no courtesy whatever to the deaf folks who made the game possible, refusing to allow his team in the group picture, and making hard feelings among the visitors and local deaf people by his hard-boiled tactics.

The game was made possible by the kindness of Supt. Blattner of the Oklahoma School, and Supt. Scott of the Texas School, in allowing the pupils and the teachers, and players to take time out from school to make the trip. The proceeds of the game, while paying a good profit to each school, fell far below expectations, but next year we hope to play the game on the State Fair Grounds and make ten times as much money.

The Texas School for the Deaf, although heavily outweighed, defeated the Oklahoma Silents, 13 to 0, on the Sunset gridiron, Saturday afternoon, before several hundred enthusiastic fans. The Oklahoma aggregation fought hard, but the Texas lads fought harder and their superiority is clearly shown in that Texas made sixteen first downs to seven for Oklahoma. Texas completed seventeen passes and had six intercepted and failed to complete five, while Oklahoma completed six, had two intercepted and eight were incomplete. Oklahoma offered two players of exceptional ability in Captain Hammtree, who made five of his team's first downs and Maguire, playing end, who was a tower of strength on the defense. It would be hard to name any outstanding player on the Texas aggregation except LaRue and Wyatt for their brilliant running and Dooley with his unerring passes and Captain Bendle for his pass-snatching ability and his defensive work.

The first Texas touchdown came early in the second quarter after Captain Bendle recovered a fumble by Reinhardt on the Oklahoma 28-yard line. On the first play, Dooley made a brilliant run for 27 yards, being downed by McGuire on the Oklahoma 1-yard line, and on the next play, LaRue plunged over the line for the first score. LaRue kicked goal, but a Texas player was offside and the extra point was not allowed.

The Texans kept the Oklahomans on the defensive and were constantly threatening to score, but wonderful defensive play by McGuire and Captain Hammtree, coupled with some costly fumbles by the Texans saved the Oklahoma goal line, until the fourth quarter, when Hammtree with his magnificent plunging and pass grabbing carried the ball to the Texas 20-yard line, where the Texas defense stopped Hammtree and Oklahoma lost the ball on downs.

Wyatt, Henderson and LaRue then ripped the Oklahoma line to carry the ball back to the Oklahoma 28-yard line, where they lost the ball on downs. Hammtree made a yard through center, then Bullard fumbled and Wyatt scooped the ball up going at full speed and ambled across the line for the final touchdown and LaRue kicked goal, ending the scoring.

While scarcely a sound was made in the big auditorium, more than 200 members of Southwestern chapters of the National Fraternal Society for the Deaf gathered Sunday morning in the First Baptist Church to hear addresses in eloquent sign-language by the Rev. J. W. Michaels, of Mountbainburg, Ark., and the Rev. A. O. Wilson, Fort Worth, missionaries to the deaf from the Southern Baptist Convention.

Michaels has been "bridging the gap of silence" as a Baptist missionary to the deaf and the mute for more than twenty-five years.

The service concluded the annual get-together of the deaf and the mute, which is held each year during the State Fair of Texas. Sunday afternoon the visitors took a last trip to the fair before leaving Sunday night for their homes.

Local divisions of the national society represented were Waco, Houston, Fort Worth, Dallas, Little Rock, Ark.; Wichita, Kan.; New Orleans, La., and Oklahoma members of the Chicago Division.

Next year they will ask the State Fair management to permit them to hold the annual football game between the Oklahoma and Texas visitors in the Fair Park Stadium in order to help pay their expenses, according to Troy E. Hill, of Dallas, secretary-treasurer of the Dallas Division.

Hill cited the workers from many lines of endeavor who were represented at the conference, as evidence that the "silent workers" can provide for themselves in the world.

Portland, Oregon

There was an anniversary dinner on Saturday night, October 13th, in honor of the eighth year since the S. F. L. Club was organized. The event took place at the Multnomah Hotel, one of Portland's big leading hotels. The ladies invited their husbands and sweethearts. The menu was as follows:

Relishes
Fruit Cocktail
Tomato and Lettuce Salad
Chicken La King
French Potatoes	Peas in Shell
Ice-Cream	Cookies
Coffee

The dinner was directed by Mrs. J. O. Reichle. Mrs. H. P. Nelson told how the club was first organized. Mrs. A. Kautz, who is the club president, also talked on the growth of the organization. Mrs. B. L. Craven advised all members who have husbands or sweethearts, who are not Frats, to persuade them to join. Mr. C. H. Linde showed where the women were better workers than men when it comes to managing an organization. Mr. J. O. Reichle also spoke for the good of the club. Mrs. Nelson, after her speech, was presented with a beautiful bouquet of pink carnations. After a few stories by others the event closed with a song by Mrs. B. C. Craven.

Mr. Royal Cook is in a local hospital sick with the pneumonia.

About a dozen deaf attended a dinner on Tuesday night, October 16th, in the banquet room of the W. O. W. Temple, for the benefit of the United Presbyterian Church, which Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Reichle and several other deaf are members. Along with the hearing, about 200 were present.

Mrs. M. Bennick, Portland's oldest deaf lady, was taken very ill recently, which caused great deal alarm amongst her many friends, as she is loved by all, and there hardly ever was a social or S. F. L. meeting without Mrs. Bennick's smiling face there. Mrs. Bennick, who is nearly seventy-eight, has not even a white hair on her head. She was taken down with Bronchitis, although a day before this writing it was learned she rallied a little and her many friends are hoping she will recover. A fine bunch of flowers was sent to Mrs. Bennick by the members of S. F. L., of which she is a member. She is living with one of her daughters, Mrs. Barr. Another daughter, who lives in Seattle, Wash., came to Portland when she got news a week ago of her mother's illness.

Mr. William Rath, a well-known young deaf man of Portland, nearly met with a serious accident at his place of employment, when in some manner a steam pipe burst, scalding Mr. Rath on his chest, but lucky it was not serious and he will be alright in a week's time.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Ticknor, of Coquille, Ore., were in Portland recently. They came here for treatment of a sore foot of Mrs. Ticknor.

The many friends of Mrs. Charles Lynch, of Salem, Ore., were sorry to learn she was down with the lumbago. We are all hoping for her speedy recovery, as both Mr. and Mrs. Lynch are very popular young people amongst the Portland as well as the Salem deaf.

Mrs. Marjorie McGriffin and three children, from Vancouver, B. C., were in Portland recently, visiting friends and relatives.

Miss Ethel Morton, formerly of the Salem deaf school, is now employed at the California deaf school at Berkeley. She is missed amongst her many friends in Portland, where her home is. Although Mr. B. L. Craven is out of office as President of the O. A. D., he still keeps his eyes on suspicious characters when they try to pose as Saturday, October 13, Mr. Craven happened to walk down the street, and took a look at a one-legged man sitting on the corner with a sign across his chest, which to Mr. Craven's horror read deaf and dumb, so he tried some sign-language on the beggar and found he was an impostor. So quick did Mr. Craven tear the sign from the man that he did not notice he was a cripple. Mr. Craven had a little mercy on him; so he did not have him arrested. But Mr. Craven went to the Chief Police and warned him to arrest any one begging with such a sign "Deaf and Dumb" on them hereafter, as they are all impostors.

DETROIT

News items intended for this column should be sent to Mrs. Lucy E. May, 2534 Ottawa St., Detroit, Mich. Such news items from Detroiters and vicinity as well as from the deaf of Michigan will be most welcome and have prompt attention.

The D. A. D. opened its doors to the public on its twelfth annual birthday anniversary, Saturday, October 13th. Chairman Thorniley asked E. M. Jacobs, its founder, to light twelve candles, which were on top of about two feet of cake. Then Rev. H. C. Smielau, of Cleveland, gave a short talk. His subject was "Responsibility and Stick Together." E. M. Jacobs also gave a talk, his subject being "Do." Mrs. Russow recited "Our Flag and My Flag," and then all got a drink of cider and cake. The rooms were crowded with about 300 people.

The committee who took charge of the celebration were F. Thorniley, D. Defazio, Slotka, Gesla, Majola, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Jacobs, Chas. Davey, Mrs. P. Gattion, John C. Cole and A. Hodgins.

Out-of-town visitors were Rev. F. C. Smielau, of Cleveland; James Hooper, of Pontiac; Mr. and Mrs. S. Wrobel, of Wyandotte; Mrs. S. Brown, of London, Ontario; Calvin Slotka, of Pontiac; Mrs. Cloyd Hossinger, of Mansfield, Ohio; Miss Avis Kerr, Elmsted, Ontario; Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bengard, of Wisconsin; Mr. Weldon Stover, of Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Japes and daughter motored to Chicago a week ago, and it took them seven hours to get to that city. A. Japes is some fast driver.

Mr. and Mrs. William Behrendt, Mrs. Ben Beaver, all of Detroit; also Mrs. Isackson and Mrs. John Berry, of Royal Oak; and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Peston, of Lansing; were at Miss Florence Jones' funeral.

Mrs. Walter Reiber delightfully entertained at a luncheon shower for Mrs. Max Crittenden, October 3d, it being Mrs. Reiber's birthday. Mrs. Crittenden entertained in return on October 6th.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugel gave birthday parties for Mrs. M. Osmonson and Mrs. Frank Brown.

Mr. George May, Richard Dailey, Mrs. Bertha Toegel, eye writer and children, Mr. and Mrs. Bassett, her daughter, Miss Linnie Sheahan, Mrs. Mahl and her daughter, motored to Mr. and Mrs. John Wicking's farm on October 6th, and stayed over night. Mr. Edward McKenzie took his sister and mother and Mrs. Harry Brown to visit Mrs. McKenzie's aged mother in Canada. They also went to Mrs. John Wicking's place. They all had a very pleasant time.

Miss Beatrice Obée was married to Mr. Thomas Rochelau on October 9th, at New St. Joseph Church. She is the only daughter of Mrs. Koehler. Mrs. William Rheiner helped Mrs. Koehler prepare for the wedding. There was a luncheon for the bridal couple and a few friends.

A Keno social was held at Detroit Frat Club last Saturday. There was a very good crowd. Beautiful floor lamps and fish globes were given away as prizes to Mr. Wilhelm, Mrs. Geo. May, Miss Max Dixon, Mr. Geo. Hansz, Mr. Afeldt, Mrs. William Rheiner, Mr. Geo. Phillips, Mrs. McKeown and Mr. Peter Hellers.

Mrs. Robert V. Jones is much improved and at home now. Mrs. Ben Dahm is still at the hospital, but is doing nicely. We are much delighted to know that they are on the road to recovery.

Mrs. Lynch, of Bay City, gave a surprise call at Mrs. Peter Hellers for a few hours, then went to Ypsanti to visit her father for his birthday.

Miss Edith Ely stopped in Detroit and visited Mrs. Peter Hellers for a few hours. She expects to stay all winter with her sister in Cincinnati.

Rev. Franklin C. Smielau gave a splendid sermon and Holy Communion at St. John's Church on Sunday morning, October 14th. A big crowd was there.

Keep this date in your mind—Mask Ball, November 10th, at G. A. R. Building, given by Detroit Chapter, M. A. D. Admission sixty cents, including checking.

Mr. Sam Smith, of Barbourville, Ky., who has been working in Akron for about ten years, is in town in searching for work.

Mr. and Mrs. Moses Graff, of Kalamazoo, planned and carried out a complete surprise, honoring the eighteenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bussing at their home, one half mile east of Coldwater Lake, when forty-three relatives and friends, most of whom could speak only in the silent language, were present. The tables groaned under the weight of the excellent food provided. After dinner the guests were bidden to the living room, where Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bussing were presented with many useful gifts. Thomas Hainline and Mrs. Moses Graff made the presentation.

The response was given by Mrs. Helen Bussing, who assured all of their appreciation for the fine gifts. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Moses Graff and son, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Troy, Mr. and Mrs. Betsey Summerville, Mr. and Mrs. John Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Siebert, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. Morton Francisco and son, John Burnett, and Henry Eichorn, all of Kalamazoo; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hainline, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. John Cordano, St. Joseph; Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Nufagle and family, Fremont, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Lenna Mickenham, Chicago, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Otis Yoder and family, Angola, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. William Yoder, Goshen, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Owen Doudt and daughter, E. Gilead, Mrs. Augusta Eldred, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Smith, Mrs. C. B. Schrontz.

Mrs. Charles Bussing was known as Helen Paradine before she was married.

OMAHA

Have you heard of the game of Roque, derived from croquet? The balls and mallets are of rubber with narrow cement walls around the court which make the balls bounce back onto it. Owen Study is quite an adept at the game and we wouldn't be surprised if he becomes a champion Roque some day. Recently he and his father, of McPaul, Ia., went to Nebraska City, where they walloped all the other players entered. Hats off to Owen.

The Midwest Chapter was entertained on the evening of October 6th by the resident members at the I. S. D., Dr. and Mrs. J. Schuyler Long, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Hester, and Mr. Zack B. Thompson. The main topic of interest was the new plan for monthly entertainments, on which the committee chairman made a report. It was decided to raise the annual dues from ninety cents to two dollars each, payable in advance. Committees of five will act as hosts and hostesses of each meeting on the first Saturday of the month. Ten dollars will be allowed for expenses—i.e., six dollars for refreshments and four dollars for hall rent when necessary. Messrs. Robert Morrow and Emil Hendricksen were admitted to membership in the chapter. Bridge was in order with Mrs. Tom L. Anderson and Mr. Oscar M. Treuke winning firsts and Mrs. Harry G. Long and Mr. Anton J. Netusil seconds. Ice-cream, cake, salted peanuts and coffee were served.

Miss Mary Dobson entertained the Midwest Chapter O. W. L. S. and their husbands, in honor of Miss Helen Pence, who was on her way back to her duties as a teacher at the Fulton, Mo., school, after spending her vacation in Yellowstone Park. She is the National president of the O. W. L. S., and the scholarship fund and similar matters were discussed. She was very much pleased to receive a pair of book-ends of blue Van Briggie pottery in an owl design. While the women were in secret session, the men had to be satisfied with smokes and a gab-fest in another room. Refreshments were served at a late hour.

Mrs. Edith Anderson Osmon entertained the O. W. L. S. at her home in Benson, Saturday afternoon, September 29th. After a short business meeting, several games of bridge were played with Mrs. Tom L. Anderson coming out first and Mrs. Harry G. Long second. A dainty supper was served, and Edith is some cook.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Arthur Clayton have another husky boy at their house. John William Clayton is his name, and they say he resembles his mother, who was Cecelia Birk.

Mrs. B. F. Marshall, of York, Neb., mother of Mrs. Edith O'Brien and the three Marshall boys, spent several weeks in Omaha, taking treatments at the University Hospital, while boarding with Mrs. John Holter near the N. S. D.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Dobson, August 27th, a daughter, their third child and first girl. It has been named Nadine Ann. Her initials are N. A. D. She arrived on the opening date of the Nebraska Association of the Deaf convention. Mr. and Mrs. Riley E. Anthony also are the proud parents of a baby boy, born the early part of August. They now have three girls and three boys. A "Teddy Roosevelt family."

The following was taken from a daily paper of Tuesday, September 18th. "Beethoven was deaf, but he lived to become the master genius of music. Harry J. Dettmer, president of a Chicago sheet metal concern, was deaf. Always, he had loved music. Deafness finally shut the melodies out. He killed himself Monday.

We notice the attractive new cover design of the Iowa Hawkeye, the work of Mr. Eugene Fry. He is doing well in his life of commercial art.

Mr. Warren Haaser, a graduate of the South Dakota school is in Omaha, searching work in some linotype concern and if he succeeds he will make Omaha his home. He was a post-graduate with Mr. George Revers at the New Jersey school, where they studied that trade. Mr. Haaser is a nice young fellow and we are glad to welcome him into our midst.

The Nebraska Association of deaf is sending out circular letters to Nebraska voters urging them to support the amendment to the state constitution, to be submitted November 6th, which will place the School for the Deaf and the School for the Blind under the jurisdiction of University of Nebraska board of regents.

The two schools are now under the jurisdiction of the state board of control, which governs all the penal and charitable institutions of Nebraska.

The circular signed by officers of the associations states that most of the other states in the union have put their schools under the control of their educational boards.

The proposed amendment has been indorsed by the Nebraska Parent-Teacher associations and by similar organizations in the state.

Scoring a touchdown in the last minute of play the Iowa School for the Deaf defeated Benson High, 7 to 0, on the I. S. D. Grid, Thursday afternoon, October 11th. The Iowans had a wide margin in yardage gained from scrimmage, but was unable to penetrate the "Bunny" line when inside the 20-yard line. The Iowa lads scored 12 first downs to their opponents none.

On Saturday evening, September 15th, Cobra Club of Council Bluffs met at Hafer Hall and held their first meeting of 1928-29. Robert G. Brown was elected president; Miss Maud Miller, Vice-President; Ransom H. Arch, Secretary; and George Jackson, Treasurer.

Adolph N. Struck, of Moline, Ill., drove to Shenandoah, Ia., in his Chevrolet over Labor Day and took back his two children, Dorothy and Stanislaus, who have been living with the Fred O'Donnells for several years.

Anton J. Netusil finally secured his new Ford coach, and he has since been burning up the roads in Council Bluffs and vicinity.

Some time ago, Elliott S. Waring fell over a small truck, someone had carelessly left in the aisle of a dark room at the Eggess O'Flying printing plant, where he works. He dislocated the elbow of his left arm and has been carrying it in a sling.

Owen Stanley left on the 5 P.M. train Saturday, October 13th, to spend the week-end with his folks in McPaul, Iowa.

BOSTON

On October 6th, a group of ladies met at the Odd Fellows' Hall, and organized amongst themselves a Ladies' Auxiliary, to be connected with the N. F. S. D., Boston Division No. 35, in aiding them in their 1931 convention. The following ladies were declared and elected: Mrs. Hall, President; Miss Nora Eagan, Vice-President; Mrs. Arthur Sinclair, Secretary; Mrs. Florence Kornblum, Treasurer. These ladies will do all in their power to raise a fund amongst themselves, to be known as the 1931 Fund.

October 11th, the Massachusetts Benevolent Association had their Hallowe'en party and dance. There was dancing part of the evening, and as the Hallowe'en party called for costumes, there were quite a few rigged up to cop the prizes. The prizes were awarded by three hearing judges, who depended on the pantomimes to get them the highest favor. Mrs. Bessie Snyder won the first prize as a Schoolmarm, which proved to be a scream; second prize went to Mrs. Arthur Doherty, as Dress Suit Charlie; Miss Hannah Levine, as a Spanish dancer was awarded third, and to the Perfect Sailor, Mrs. Johnson, went the fourth. Games were played the greater part of the evening. A musical marathon was held, the winner being Mrs. Ovid Fecteau. Misses Keating and Houghton won the clinch and run contest, and Miss Catherine Doren and Mr. Melvin McIntyre the walking race.

The writer was pleased to meet and to have all others meet Mr. Moscovitz, of New Hampshire, and his wife, the former Miss Miriam Levine, of Boston. Miss Hannah Levine, the very attractive sister of Miriam, was also there, and is tickled pink with her new nephew, Jerome Moscovitz, now about ten months.

Miss Mary Kelley became Mrs. George Pike, at a quiet and informal wedding, September 1st.

Mrs. Oscar Davis, who for the past month has been suffering from a nervous breakdown, has been visiting friends in Lynn, and is very slowly recuperating. Her breakdown was due to worry since the death of her husband in New York several months ago. She has lost several pounds and is as slim as she was before she was married.

Because of some confusion in the past in regard to dates for socials in the different societies, a meeting of representatives of the societies was held recently. The following dates were agreed on:—

Ladies' Auxiliary.—October 12, February 22, March 17, April 19, May 30, and June 17.

Mass. Ben. Assn.—October 11, October 20, November 11, February 21, and fourth Saturday in May.

St. Andrew's Guild.—June 20, September 19, October 19, November 21, February 13, December 19, or 26, January 9, or 16, June 18, March 13, or 20, April 16, and May 21.

Frats, N. F. S. D.—December 31, or nearest Saturday to that date, and January 1-2.

Horace Mann A. A.—Second Saturday in May, and third Saturday in November.

Boston Oral Club.—Third Saturday in each month.

Hebrew Association.—Third Saturday in May, Second Saturday in June, Third Sunday in July, and Second Saturday in December.

K. L. D. l'Epée.—Saturday nearest April 19, and Labor Day outing. Clarke School A. A.—To be announced later.

New England Gallaudet.—To be announced later.

These dates may be changed or dropped if the Secretary, Mr. Battersby, is notified one month in advance. It is the hope of the committee that everything will be agreeable to all concerned.

We were pleased to have Mrs. L. Flynn, of Bangor, Maine, here on a visit. We all express our sympathy at the loss of her husband, the late J. Fred Flynn.

Through the courtesy of the Shepard Stores, Boston and Providence, the opportunity was given sometime ago, to broadcast from station WNAC, a "Five Minute Story of Real Life," and to tell of the work of the New England Home for Deaf-Mutes, in caring for those who are aged, blind and infirm, in this section of the country. The article was prepared by Mr. William Alcott, librarian of the Boston Globe, and was read by Mr. Carl Banks, both members of the Board of Trustees. The article told concisely the development of institutions and agencies for the care of the deaf, from the first school in America in 1817, for the education of deaf children, to the founding of the Home in 1901 for the care of the aged. The night proved to be a good one for broadcasting, and good results are expected from the vast audience.

On October 12th, Columbus Day, was also Donation Day at the Home, and quite a few attended the open house. The Ladies Auxiliary were in charge all day. All donations of food, clothing, household articles, money and reading articles, were greatly appreciated by all.

Dr. Caroline Yale, principal emeritus of the Clarke School for the Deaf in Northampton, observed her 80th birthday, recently and was honored by a visit from Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, who as Grace Goodhue, was a teacher under Miss Yale 25 years ago.

The Lynn Silent Club gave one of the most attractive dances of the year. This club consists of boys and girls residing in the district of Lynn, and the dance they held was in the Elks ball room, a small but very pleasing and brilliantly lit hall, surrounded by a balcony, and a fine cove for the musicians on the ground floor. The orchestra consisted of six pieces, a very unusual group for a small association. Miss Margaret McCarthy won the beauty contest for girls, and Mr. Melvin McIntyre, the handsome man contest.

The Boston Hebrew Association of the Deaf held their open house on Sunday, October 14th, for the Hebrew members and their friends. President Snyder opened the entertainment with a speech that has impressed the writer for many days, on account of its beauty and significance. Part of it read:

"Many people of our race and not of our race say that an association among the Hebrews is impossible. They are too impetuous, too emotional, too temperamental. I know that it is not so. I do not want you for your money or for the fame, but to show other people what they may think of us. Let us come together, work together, think together, act together, for in unity there is strength. It is almost impossible to work alone. You all say, let them help themselves, but some day you yourself may want help. You all know the world thinks different of the deaf. They consider them objects of charity and pity. We cannot stop those thoughts. It is not for us to stop them, and besides, we cannot stop the world from going around, but we can make the world pause for a moment, by proving ourselves worthy other than as objects of charity, and that we can do something more with our hands than by talking with them."

At the conclusion of his speech, President Snyder introduced in order, Mrs. Betsy Levy, Miss Catherine Doren, and Mr. Harry Rosenstein, each one making a speech, encouraging joining, hoping for future Judaism, getting jobs for the jobless, and backing all socialities amongst the deaf.

Mr. Mark Cohen made a pantomime, keeping all others in gales of laughter. Then a debate was made, resolving that companionate marriages should be abolished before they become dissolved. Miss Doren and Mr. Snyder took the affirmative; Mr. Cohen and Mr. Bachner the negative. The debate waged furiously for an hour. The decision was to Miss Doren for her answers.

Refreshments were served, and a good time was had by all.

There will be a dance at Lowell by the Lowell Frats on October 20th, from 7:30 till 6:00 A.M. Come and have a good time. Breakfast will be served hot.

The N. F. S. D., Boston Division No. 35, will have their party on October 27th. Chairman Gouner and Livingstone are assuring all of a good time. Games, prizes, entertainments, music and refreshments, may all be had for just fifty pennies. The Frats are anticipating a good gathering from New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Young, of New York, were guests in Boston a while ago, and enjoyed seeing their Boston friends. Come again.

NEW YORK

News items for this column should be sent direct to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, Station M, New York.

A few words of information in a letter or postal card is sufficient. We will do the rest.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

The Bronx Division, No. 92, N. F. S. D., held its annual Hallowe'en Party at the Ebling Casino, East 156th Street and St. Ann's Avenue, the Bronx, on Saturday evening, October 20, 1928.

The hall had been beautifully decorated with paper festoons and other decorations to conform to the occasion.

The Bronx Frats Committee of Arrangements of this affair were Messrs. E. P. Bonvillain (Chairman), Jack Ebin (Vice-Chairman), Al. Lazar, J. Sobel, L. Saracione, F. Bohn, H. Skidmore, Joe Graham and F. Berger.

Many new games were introduced, the winners of which were awarded handsome and useful prizes, which included a tiny statuette for a mantle, bureau or desk, with fixtures to be electrically lighted, an electric coffee percolator, and rubber kitchen aprons, and for men silk four-in-hand ties.

Jack Ebin conducted the games single handed, and he also acted as the sole judge to determine the winners, and there were no complaints against his decisions.

The grand prizes were won by Mrs. Jack Sobel and Mrs. Emma Nichter. The latter won two.

In the games Miss Betty Nooger, for the ladies, and Mr. Joe R. Collins, for the men, won in the Old Witch Race.

In the Needle Race, Miss Dora Cohen and Mr. Leon Wincig were the winners.

In the Apple Peeling Race, Mrs. Rose Lamponi and Mr. A. Impellexico won.

In the Water Drinking Race, Mr. A. Lazar and Peter Liskiercz beat all contestants.

The last was the scrambling to capture a balloon, of which there were about one hundred suspended from the ceiling of the hall. At the signal from the Chairman, Ed. P. Bonvillain, a rush was made. Inside of the balloons were inserted coins totaling about five dollars. Some contained half a dollar, while others only one cent.

The writer was unable to ascertain who obtained the balloons that contained the money, or as to the name of the fair miss, the sister of a deaf-mute young lady, who furnished the dance music.

The affair of last Saturday must be considered the best yet held by Bronx Division, as everything went on smoothly, and everybody had a very good time.

On Thursday evening, October 18th, the Deaf-Mutes' Union League held its regular business meeting, with a record attendance, there being 160 present.

Four new members were admitted, and eleven applicants for membership were received. The three hundred mark has now been reached.

After the business meeting, nominations for officers for the year 1929 were made and supervised by Mr. Charles Schatzkin as Inspector, and Messrs. Henry Hester, Sam Bramson, Andrew McClay and Zeitz as assistants.

It resulted in choosing the following. The election will be held on the third Thursday in December.

For President—Samuel Frankenheim vs. John N. Funk.

For First Vice-President—Jack Ebin vs. Emanuel Souweine.

For Second Vice-President—Joseph C. Sturtz vs. Moses W. Loew.

For Secretary—N. Schwartz (by acclamation).

For Treasurer—Sam Lowenherz (unopposed).

John N. Funk, the chairman of the Literary Committee, reported the following program for Sunday evening, October 28th:

LECTURE—"Fifty years Among the Deaf," by Rev. Jacob M. Koehler.

DEBATE—"Is Prohibition Beneficial to the People in the United States."

Affirmative—Samuel Kohn.

Negative—Francis W. Nuboor.

READING—"The Career of a Courtisan," by John N. Funk.

BURGLARS AT WORK

That thieves are still working in Palisades Park was evident when Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Klaus, Broad Avenue, Palisades Park, entered their home after a few hours at the movies last night, and noticed that the back screen door had been taken off its hinges and the glass in the kitchen door broken.

The entire upper floor of the house was ransacked and it is roughly estimated that clothing and jewelry amounting to about $1,500 was taken.

Fingerprints have been taken and the police are doing everything to apprehend those guilty.—Bergen County Record.

The father of Mrs. A. A. Cohn died suddenly on Wednesday, October 17th.

CHICAGO

Chicago's deaf are to have a political rally, with "spellbinders" and speeches and arguments and everything. Mrs. Meagher has engaged the Methodist Episcopal Hall of the deaf, third floor, 509 South Wabash, for Thursday evening, November 1st. Everybody welcome. The speechifying will be done by that gifted gent o' gab, Kreigh H. Ayres, of Akron, Ohio. Ayers has been stumping before deaf assemblies in Cincinnati, Detroit, Cleveland and other places lately.

Mrs. Walter Whitson and Mrs. J. Meagher spent a couple of days on the farm of Franklin Sawyer at Leland, then brought Mrs. Sawyer to Chicago, where she remained a week visiting different friends.

The Montreal uncle and aunt of Miss Winifred Lawrence spent a few days' visiting her and Kate Leierhoff, taking them to dine at the Terrace Gardens.

After over five weeks on the shelf, recovering from a busted appendix which nearly killed him, Gus Anderson returned to stick type in the Bundscho ad plant, October 10th.

All Angels' Church had eleven tables of "500" following its weekly Wednesday supper, on the 10th. This affair was managed by Mesdames Gus and Fredo Hyman.

The Pas-a-Pas Club gives "500" and bunco parties nearly every Saturday night, except the first Saturday in each month, which is reserved for business meetings. The Pas Saturday crowds are picking up; it has far eclipsed the Silent Athletic Club gathering. Mighty meager crowds now attend even the best Sac functions, for the tide of color has overwhelmed the historic edifice, and most surrounding buildings and business houses are already owned by the negroes. The Sac had several good offers in the past, but put off for a few extra dollars—and is left holding the sack, (no pun intended.)

Mrs. George Morton, of East Elgin, was called to Detroit, September 29th, to attend the funeral of her mother, aged eighty-five. By the way, George E. Morton, for over forty years a Union printer, is still in harness, working on the Hearst dailies.

The "Home Club" met October 4th, at the home of Mrs. Fred Young.

Miss Betty Plonshinsky was recently struck by an auto and slightly injured. The owner made prompt and satisfactory settlement.

Michael Lydon, being out of work, was thinking of returning to Minnesota with the $135 he carried. But two gunmen held him up and relieved him of his last cent, the night before he planned to leave.

The Lutherans will give a "500" and bunco party at their church, November 10th.

The Ladies' Aid Society will hold its annual bazaar at the M. T. Hall, December 7th and 8th.

Mrs. William Hoffman (Grace Knight) went back to Terra Bella, October 17th, after being with her old friends since July. It was her first visit here since her marriage, nine years ago. Numerous social affairs were tendered her by "old knows."

Miss Cora Jacobs and Mesdames Meagher, Sharpnack, Bernard, Jacobson and Hasenstab each gave her a luncheon party—the last named at the Stevens Hotel.

Cafeteria at 5:30, followed by entertainment at 8; November 10th, at M. E. Hall.

Miss Ella Wieland, from Duluth, now works in Chicago. She lives with the Ingvald Dahls.

E. W. Carlson has been on the sick list for some time, but he is up and around again.

Mrs. Fred Hartung autoed to Kewanee, Ill., for a few days' visit last week.

The lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Bulka is gladdened by the birth of a baby boy, who came to the world recently. They gave the son the name of Raymond.

A Fall festival, scheduled for Saturday, October 20th, has been postponed till Saturday, November 10th, for lack of time to make preparation.

A stork shower was tendered to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Arado last week by their friends, members of the Ephpheta Club, who enjoyed social hours.

Silent Court, No. 594, Tribe of Ben Hur, gave a Hallowe'en party last Sunday at Alma Mater Hall, 1643 Milwaukee Avenue. Games were a galore and prizes were offered to winners.

The Chicago Council of K. L. D. held a business meeting at the Ephpheta Club house Sunday, October 14th, in the afternoon. After that the members indulged in "500" and bunco for prizes.

George Irvine, who is an assembler at the Automatic Telephone Factory, has been ill for two weeks and is still sick. His wife has been ill for a long time, but she is out of danger.

Mrs. Constance H. Elmes conducted a religious service at the M. E. Mission Sunday, October 14th, in the absence of her father, Rev. Hasenstab, who was in Indianapolis, Ind.

A Fall dance, given by the Silent Athletic Club at the club house, Saturday, October 13th, was largely attended. The first diversion of the evening was "500" and bunco followed by a dance in conclusion.

Democratic and Republican parties use the halls of the Silent Athletic Club house three or four times a week in the evening, for meetings for discussion of politics. The rents the club receives swell the club fund.

All public schools, as well as schools for oral deaf and Catholic deaf, were closed on Friday, October 12th, as Columbus Day to remember Columbus, who discovered America after enduring a rough and stormy voyage over the Atlantic Ocean.

Misses Evelyn King, of Faribault, Minn.; Rena Gephart, of Minneapolis; and Ella Wieland, of Duluth, Minn.; have obtained jobs at a candy factory, a radio factory and tailoring house, respectively. The young girls enjoyed themselves at the Fall dance at the Silent Athletic Club house October 13th.

John Sullivan, of Brewin, Ill., whose wife died last November, following an operation for the removal of goitre, goes to the Ephpheta Club house frequently to banish his loneliness by social conversation.

The Deaf Home Club of Delavan, Wis., held a meeting at I. O. O. F. Hall, Saturday, October 13th. Following the meeting, there was social entertainment, and refreshments were served.

Coach F. J. Neesam's football squad from the Wisconsin School for the Deaf, was crushed at Delafield, Wis., Saturday, October 6th, by the St. John Military School, 37 to 0. The deaf boys were outweighed twenty to thirty pounds to the man.

Mr. Neesam's team met the team from the Industrial School at Waukegan, Wis., at the Wisconsin school field, the following week Saturday, October 13th. At this writing the results has not been learned.

The deaf boys will go to Jacksonville, Ill., Saturday, October 27th, to play the Illinois deaf school team.

Mrs. Olive Larson returned last week from a one month's stay with her folks in Iowa. During her visit, she took in the convention held at the Iowa School for the Deaf last August and was delighted in meeting her old schoolmates, whom she had not seen since she left school about thirty-five years ago.

The old Knights and Ladies of De l'Epee, which has been undergoing a process of reorganization in accordance with the new Illinois State's governing mutual benefit associations, will soon resume title of "Catholic Knights and Ladies of De l'Epee. A charter from the Illinois department of Trade and Commerce will be issued within a short time and the new organization will expand its business to new fields. Several new features have been added, which will give the members additional protection to its beneficiaries. The old system of paying sick and accident benefits will be entirely eliminated, but local organizations may, if they so benefit of their own members. By eliminating the sick benefits the national organization will avoid the risk of so many organizations which have gone on the rocks.

OHIO

News items for this column can be sent to B. M. Edgar, 56 Latta Avenue, Columbus, Ohio.

The thirty-first annual report of the Board of Managers of the Ohio Home has been made public, and proves interesting reading. There are at present thirty-five residents, representing twenty-three counties and two States other than Ohio.

The home garden furnished an abundant supply of fresh vegetables of all kinds. Four hundred quarts of strawberries were picked, and blackberries were plentiful, and the matron's cupboard is filled with canned goods right from the Home garden.

Farm crops brought in $994.37. Receipts from counties and guardians amounted to $7,102.70. Salaries, wages and groceries were the highest expenses incurred.

Mr. Robert P. Thomas, of Citizens Wholesale Co., inspected the treasurer's books, and commended the Board and its officers for the increase in the assets of the Home shown.

He stated that the Ohio National Bank's bond department had written to their Duluth correspondent for the value of the stock of the Howard Investment Co.

If the report is unsatisfactory, a demand can be made for a report from the company and if necessary an audit of their books. If the report proves questionable conduct, a receiver can be asked for. The Home managers many years ago invested quite a sum in this company, and like others are wondering why no dividends have been paid in the last few years.

Before long the Ohio Home will have a new superintendent and Mrs. Chapman, who have given nineteen years to the care of the Home and have faithfully performed their duties all these years, and are now both in poor health and eager to rest.

According to the Maryland Bulletin the scout, Paul S. Siple, who accompanies the Byrd Expedition to the great Antarctic, is a deaf boy. This news was a genuine surprise to most of us and the deaf have a right to feel proud of the honor that has fallen to a deaf boy.

We learned that a scout in the Kansas School was taken into a Boy Scout's camp by the hearing scouts of Topeka and given a royal time all summer. The hearing scouts, ever eager to be helpful, learned signs and made it very easy for the deaf scout to enjoy life among them. This is an example for all hearing scouts to follow.

Mr. A. B. Greener, who was confined to his home several days with a severe cold, is now able to be around, and is eager to take up his blue pencil again in the Chronicle office.

Mr. James Steward, one of our veteran teachers, was forced to give up his class work for a few days last week till he could fight off a case of the gripe.

Mr. C. E. Neuner, a clerk in the office at Greenlawn Cemetery, has been enjoying a vacation with Mrs. Neuner in Holmes County, where they visited a famous cheese factory that turns out real Swiss cheese.

Friends in Ohio and Kentucky are congratulating Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hundley (Hazel Woods) on the arrival of their first son. Mr. Hundley was educated in the Ohio school and his wife attended the Kentucky school. They live in Cincinnati.

Word has been received to the effect that Leslie D. Mebane and family who moved to West Palm Beach, Florida, several years ago to live, lost everything in the recent hurricane, their dwelling being washed away. The Red Cross has been taking care of them. Leslie has sent an appeal to his friends in North Carolina for help. Donations may be sent to Mr. H. G. Miller, Bureau of Labor for the Deaf, Raleigh, N. C.—Deaf Carolinian.

BUFFALO

There's a strong rumor going the rounds that our pugilistic friend, Ed Connors, has gone and got married. There seems to be some truth in this rumor, as Ed neither denies nor confirms it. In last week's issue we mentioned Ed showing up at a card party with a sweet little girl friend. We now wonder if she is the lady in the case. At present both are keeping low and avoiding questioning.

At a meeting on Friday, October 5th, Rochester Division No. 51, N. F. S. D., voted overwhelmingly in favor of trying to get the 1935 Frat convention for their city. And though the time is still far off, we think a few words about these people might prove interesting to JOURNAL readers. The Rochester School for the Deaf has an enviable reputation all over the country, and in foreign countries as well, as being unique in more ways than one. In our travels all over the country we have never met deaf people to compare with them in intelligence, character, education, progress and the ability to get along in this world. We can assure our readers that the Rochester Frats are well able to handle such a convention. The city of Rochester is best known as the "Kodak City," but it is also known as the "Flower City." By the latter you can see that it is indeed a beautiful city. But we are not their press-agent; when the time comes they will speak for themselves; for we really cannot do them full justice, no matter how hard we tried. Still, we hope they will land the convention, for we do know they will make it a real big event in the annals of deaf history.

While on a visit to Buffalo on Sunday, September 16th, the Misses Catherine and Rosella Grief and Evelyn Johnson and Mr. Harold Sehn, all from Rochester, met with an unique accident. After a meal they had parked their car on Huron Street and walked to the Statler to see that famous hotel, which will be headquarters of the 1930 N. A. D. convention. As they were crossing the street opposite the Statler, a car driven by a man under the influence of liquor ran into the four of them and knocked them spinning several yards. By far the worst sufferer was Rosella Grief, who received lacerations of the knee, and at present is still limping painfully. Catherine Grief hurt her ankle, while Harold Sehn received severe bruises on his hips and elbow. The only one to escape unscathed was Miss Johnson. Nearly all these people are themselves again.

The Rev. Mr. H. G. Merrill, of Syracuse, was in our midst again. Sunday, October 7th, he gave Holy Communion services and a sermon in the chapel of the Church House, Diocese of Western New York, 237 North St. This service was fairly well attended. The same afternoon he gave services to the deaf of Rochester in the Parish House of St. Luke's Church on South Fitzhugh St. There also his services were well attended.

On Sunday, October 7th, we paid a visit to the Rochester School for the Deaf on St. Paul St., Rochester. We spent over an hour going through all the buildings and studying the children. We really enjoyed ourselves and were very much interested with the orderly manner the school is conducted. It reminded us strongly of our own Alma Mater of fond memories. The children themselves are a happy, care-free lot.

The buildings are the oldest we have seen. And it is no wonder when one considers that the school celebrated its sixty-seventh birthday last week. We noted that the authorities are just starting on an ambitious rebuilding programme. We noted the large number of girders and piles of brick scattered all over the lawn. First they are rebuilding the boiler-room and kitchen and dining room. They are doing the thing in a systematic manner, so that it will not interfere with the regular school work.

Cheer, fellers, cheer. Word has just reached us that Allan Dunham's chickens are at last starting to lay. The way Allan carries on one might think he does the laying himself. He tells us that he may keep the first egg as a souvenir and use it in his wedding cake. By then it ought to be a genuine-storage egg. All he has to do now is to find a girl who'd marry him.

The Rochester Frat Fair on Saturday, October 6th, was successful, that is, if we are to judge by the number who attended it. The boys worked like Trojans fixing up Culver Hall to the king's taste. And it did look nice. The huge crowd marvelled at the transformation. We were truly amazed at the huge pile of groceries in the hall. There was enough food-stuff there to feed an army. The marvel of it all was the way it vanished in quick order. It seems that most of the deaf housewives followed the advice of the director and stocked their larders for weeks to come. The hall contained everything possible needed at a fair. The many games of skill and attractive prizes and souvenirs added to the fun. Mr. Altemose, the chairman in charge, was busier than a chicken looking after a brood of ducklings she had just hatched. He had willing and efficient helpers in most of the Frat brethren. The affair started at three in the afternoon, but the crowd started to thicken early in the evening. From then until long after midnight the hall was a busy scene of activity. Visitors from Buffalo were the Misses Schwagler, Palmgreen and Kinn, Messrs. Weil, Sedlowsky, Gorenflo, Rata, etc., etc. Towards the close, Messrs. Weil and Sedlowsky gave a brief talk about the N.A.D., that was warmly received by everyone present.

Miss Martha Wells entertained several friends at a charming little Hallowe'en party at her home, in Batavia, on Saturday, October 18th. Friends from Buffalo, Rochester and all over Western New York, were in attendance.

Miss Charlotte Schwagler and A. L. Sedlowsky called at the Statler Hotel Wednesday and made final arrangements for the big N. A. D. entertainment on October 20th. The Fillmore Room assigned to them seemed too small for their needs and hardly big enough to take care of the immense crowd expected, judging by the number of tickets sold. So the entertainment will take place in the Fillmore Rooms and Parlors D and E. These rooms lead off each other, and a very big hall is the result. Over 600 people can be seated comfortably there. A big crowd is expected.

SEDDY.

THE CAPITAL CITY

The dirigible "Graf Zeppelin" flew over Washington on October 15th. It was first sighted approaching slowly from the southeast at 12:24 P.M. The name "Graf Zeppelin," printed in red letters on the forward part of the bag, could be seen easily.

Under the auspices of the Washington Division, No. 46, N. F. S. D., a glorious Hallowe'en social was given on the night of October 13th, at the Masonic Temple. It was under the direction of our genial friend, C. Quinley. A large number of ladies were present. A good many Frats were unable to be present on account of working on the night shifts at the Government Printing Office.

Two bowls contained the names of the women and men present. The men picked the names of the women and the women picked the men, and partners were procured in that fashion for the grand march. The judges decided Mrs. Marshall and Mr. John Edelen the best agreeable couple and they each won a box of candy. "500" was then played. Gerald Ferguson and Mr. Ridgway won the first prizes, and Mrs. Boswell and Mrs. Miller the second. Each was given a box of candy. Ice-cream and apples were served.

The Frats decided to have another social on Saturday night, November 10th, at the Masonic Temple. It will be a Chicken Patty Supper. Supper will be served from 6 to 8 o'clock for fifty cents. Come everybody and be happy.

Rev. A. D. Bryant's sermon, of October 14th, was on a story of the Bible, "The Tragedy of Absalom." Miss Nora Nanney rendered "Rock of Ages." Rev. Bryant carried Rev. H. Lorraine Tracy's invitation to the congregation, asking them all to attend the service at St. Mark's Church on Sunday afternoon, October 21st, at 3:30. Rev. Gilbert C. Braddock, B. A., assistant to the Vicar of St. Ann's Church for the Deaf, New York, will preach a Conference Sermon.

Emmett Freshner, an employee at the Providence Hospital for several years, met with an accident one day last week. A hundred-pound piece of ice fell on one of his feet and crushed it.

Poor Kendall Greeners! Playing straight football, Schuykill overwhelmed Gallaudet, 51 to 7, at Reading, Pa., Saturday afternoon, October 13th.

Norris Herod, who is a chauffeur for a wealthy family in Wheeling, West Va., motored with the family to attend the opening of the Episcopal Convention last week. He was at the Baptist Mission, meeting old and new acquaintances.

W. W. Duvall and C. Quinley motored in the Quinley car to Baltimore, Md., Sunday, October 14th.

Mrs. Ferd Harrison's little grandson is very sick with the grip.

The ladies of the Guild will meet with Mrs. H. L. Tracy at her home, November 6th, to discuss and plan for the coming bazaar of November 14th.

The election of the officers of St. Barnabas' Mission will be held at the home of H. S. Edington, President, on the night of November 13th.

The Bible class of St. Barnabas' Mission was opened, with H. S. Edington leading, Sunday afternoon, October 14th. They studied on "Spiritual Gifts." Rev. H. L. Tracy was present and he explained clearly what spiritual gifts meant. The Lord gave the men varied gifts to help in different ways. The next meeting will be on the afternoon of October 28th. The study will be on "Christian Stewardship" and "Paul's Last Journey to Jerusalem." All are invited to attend.

More than ten thousand attended the opening of the Episcopal Convention on October 10th. Among them were the Rev. G. F. Flick, of Chicago, the Rev. Whildin, of Baltimore, and the Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Tracy. Rev. Flick brought his moving-picture outfit with him and snapped the procession of the prominent Bishops. One of them is an African Bishop, son of a Mohammedan priest.

The Flicks were the first members of the conference to arrive in the city. They are now staying in Baltimore, Maryland, until the 19th.

Probably the most pleasant function to be given will be the reception, which will be given by the Rev. and Mrs. H. Lorraine Tracy, in the Parish House of St. Mark's Church, Saturday evening, October 20th, at 8 o'clock, in honor of the members of the conference and visitors. Every deaf in Washington is invited to meet the prominent missionaries and visitors.

Among the resolutions offered at the Episcopal Convention were that a campaign of paid newspaper advertising spread the teachings of Christianity, and to abolish the military training schools throughout the country.
